Did you know that Baraboo was home to the Ringling Brothers? It was from Baraboo in 1884 that the Ringling Brothers Circus began their first tour as a circus. Over six seasons, the circus expanded from a wagon show to a railroad show with 225 employees, touring cities across the United States each summer. Baraboo remained the circus's headquarters and wintering grounds until 1918, when the Ringling Brothers Circus combined with the Barnum and Bailey Circus, which the Ringling Brothers had bought out in 1908. There's many homes, buildings, and even a theater that they created in Baraboo. Be sure to check out this part of the area's history while you are here!
